Super Tiny Football releases new gameplay update and trailer highlighting QB Scramble and helmet Flair

Fremont, Calif., Feb. 12, 2026 – SMT Games, a subsidiary of SMT, The Yellow First Down Line Company®, announces a major update to Super Tiny Football, along with the release of a new gameplay trailer showcasing the latest features, including QB Scramble and fun new helmet Flair customization as the game continues strong growth across iOS and Android. Football fans and Super Tiny Football players everywhere can win their own Super Tiny Bowl right from their own mobile devices!

Since launching in September 2024, Super Tiny Football has surpassed 320,000 lifetime installs and has recorded over 78,000 active users in the past 30 days, with more than 612,000 matches completed during that period alone.

This week's v0.8.7 update lets players customize their team's helmets with Flair like Cheeseheads, Beverage Hat and Viking Horns, helping the game to jump into the Top 10 ranks in the App Store's Sports category in both Canada and Mexico!

Our newly released trailer gives players their first look at QB Scramble! Inspired by player feedback, this new feature lets quarterbacks escape pressure and keep plays alive. The update boosts Super Tiny Football's offense-first action with expanded gameplay, deeper team management, exciting bundle offers and new helmet Flair that adds personality and style to the Super Tiny universe.

The update is supported by a new Super Tiny Football gameplay series from I'm Grego, one of YouTube's top mobile-football content creators. An early supporter of Super Tiny Football, Grego dives into the game's career mode and team-building systems in a new multi-video series focused on drafting, scouting, and long-term franchise strategy.

Grego has also helped launch our Super Tiny Bowl Challenge which has a top prize of 4,000 gems to whomever can get the most points in a Super Tiny Bowl win. Submissions accepted through Feb. 15 in Discord.
